

SciWhyLab
invites everyone to its first Symposium
titled

'Scientists and Engineers in the Literary Arts' (SELA)

on

Friday, December 2, 2022 (5 p.m. onwards)

at

Committee Room, School of Computational and Integrative Sciences, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi

Ganesh Bagler
(IIIT, Delhi)

Shandar Ahmad
(SciWhyLab, JNU)

Arvind Kumar
(ABVSME, JNU)

Aashisha Chakraborty
(Airtel)

Sandesha Rayapa-Garbiyal
(LEC, JNU)

SciWhyLab invites you to engage in a lively discussion about Scientists, Engineers & Managers in the Literary Arts. On Friday, 02 December, interact with three such practitioners from the world of Science, Engineering and Management. Know about the recent trends in Writing taken up by such professionals. Find out if human literary activities help or hinder the scientific abilities.

Friday, December 2, 2022 (5 p.m. onwards) @ Committee Room, SCIS, JNU

5:00 p.m.: Ganesh Bagler shares about his entry into the literary world

5:20 p.m.: Aashisha Chakraborty talks about her engineering & management days

5:40 p.m.: Shandar Ahmad discusses about balancing the role of a scientist and a literary writer

6:00 p.m.: Aashisha Chakraborty introduces her new novel to the audience

6:15 p.m.: Shandar Ahmad introduces his poetic works and upcoming launch plans

6:30 p.m.: Panel discussion presided by Arvind Kumar (Dean, ABVSME, JNU)

Moderated by Sandesha Rayapa-Garbiyal (Linguistic Empowerment Cell, JNU)

7:00 p.m.: Tea

ENTRY IS OPEN TO ALL LOVERS OF LITERATURE AND SCIENCE

RSVP: Professor Shandar Ahmad (shandar@jnu.ac.in)

Organized by: SciWhyLab, School of Computational and Integrative Sciences, JNU (www.sciwhylab.org)
Supported by: Linguistic Empowerment Cell (LEC), JNU